A blessing of these years I want to share

is the special grace of support received over the years from many holy colleagues, companions in SSND communities, my students, and lay ministers in training and formation.

The wisdom I would like to share

is how my growth in faith was nurtured by experiences with members of various spiritual and service groups, faculty and staff committees, SSND local communities and faithful members of our international congregation, as part of ecclesial community in parish and diocesan settings, and lastly and mostly, by spiritual mentors along the way.

I would also like to share my gratitude for the opportunity for my education to prepare for the various assignments and the mission at hand.
