A blessing of these years I want to share is

God, who has always been faithful, has walked every step with me throughout these graced years. God has placed a loving family and many grace-filled people in my life.

The wisdom I would like to share is

As I have always tried to do God's will, God has blessed my many ministries, especially those I initially didn't think I was capable of doing. With God's grace we are capable of many blessings.
