JUBILEE WISDOM

*Life has its highs and lows,
sufferings and exaltations.
God is in them all.*

-Beth Haltiner, SSND

-formerly S. Mary Paul

Beth Haltiner, SSND

70 Years

Sister Beth taught in junior and senior high school for 25 years mainly in Minnesota; she also had short terms in North Dakota and Washington. She was director of religious education for 23 years at several parishes in the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis and one parish in the Diocese of Saint Cloud, Minnesota. For five years she helped Spanish speaking students at Guadalupe Area Project in St. Paul learn and improve their English speaking and reading. Since 1998 Sister Beth has been retired at Good Counsel where she participates in many activities including a vibrant book club.

I have always truly loved my ministries. When I lived with sisters who taught but disliked their work or found it impossible, I knew that God had given me a special blessing in my love for teaching.

As surely as night follows day and day follows night, so life has its highs and lows, sufferings and exaltations. God is in them all.

School Sisters of Notre Dame were part of my life through grade school at Sacred Heart School in St. Paul and in high school at Good Counsel Academy in Mankato. From first grade on I announced I was going to be a nun. However, I also said I was going to have 12 children. God and I solved the problem by my entering the convent and from then on having a dozen and more children each year in my classroom.
